

Private Support Making a Difference

NOVEMBER 2005

At her investiture as chancellor, Denice Denton emphasized private gift support as an ongoing campus priority, and at the Scholarships Benefit Dinner the following day, she announced record giving totals for fiscal year 2004–05.

$35.3 million—another record year

PPRIVATE GIFT SUPPORT for UC Santa Cruz reached $35.3 million in 2004–05—the second consecutive record year of fundraising. “Across the range of disciplines, from the social sciences, humanities, and physical and biological sciences to the arts and engineering, our donors are making a positive difference at UC Santa Cruz,” said Chancellor Denice D. Denton. “We depend on their generosity and support and are very grateful for it.”

This Annual Report tells the stories behind some of the gifts—and remarkable donors—that made this such a successful year.

Celebration honors diversity, leadership, and student support

GUESTS FROM across the state, around the nation, and as far away as Japan gathered for three days of special events that explored diversity in higher education, celebrated the investiture of Chancellor Denice D. Denton, and supported UC Santa Cruz students through the Scholarships Benefit Dinner. At the third annual dinner, which honored longtime UCSC supporter Jack Baskin with the first Fiat Lux Award, Denton announced that $2.7 million in student support had been raised in the past year.

The celebratory events began with “Achieving Excellence Through Diversity,” a public symposium on issues of diversity in higher education. Keynote speaker Dr. Shirley Ann Jackson, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and former chair of the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, posed the question of how institutions of higher education can identify and enact the best practices for access and inclusion. “Diversity is not radical,” said Anuradha Luther Maitra, president of the UCSC Foundation, in her symposium remarks. “It’s a risk-averse strategy for survival.” Luther Maitra and Denton presented Jackson with the UCSC Foundation Medal in recognition of her career achievements, which exemplify the ideals and vision of UCSC.

On the day following the symposium, the UCSC Music Center Recital Hall was filled to capacity for the investiture of Denton. UC President Robert C. Dynes called Denton

“I am proof of the life-changing power of giving.”

scholarship recipient

a “trailblazer in pursuit of equity and multiculturalism” prior to presenting her with the UCSC Chancellor’s Medallion, the official emblem of her office.

In her inaugural address, Denton challenged the campus to “lead at the edge” and outlined six priorities that will guide decisions and the distribution of resources (see the Chancellor’s letter, page 2).

Success and surprise characterized the Scholarships

Benefit Dinner, the final event in the three-day celebration. Chancellor Denton announced the successful conclusion of the UCSC Cornerstone Campaign (see related article this page), and Tremain Jones (Kresge ’05), recipient of a Karl S. Pister Leadership Opportunity Award scholarship, spoke about the impact of student support on his academic success. “I am proof of the life-changing power of giving,” said Jones, who completed a B.A. in anthropology and will travel to Borneo this winter to study orangutans in their natural environment.

Campus and community benefactor Jack Baskin received the Fiat Lux Award in recognition of his distinguished and sustained service in support of UCSC’s programs and goals.

In a surprise announcement, Chancellor Denton revealed that Baskin’s family, friends, and colleagues at UCSC and the Jack Baskin School of Engineering had created and funded the Jack Baskin Engineering Scholarship.

“They have taken this opportunity to honor your educational leadership and vision for our young engineers,” said Denton.

For more about these special events, see page 2.

Cornerstone Campaign surpasses goal

THE FIRST CAMPUSWIDE fundraising effort in UC Santa Cruz’s history is a resounding success. A total of $67.6 million was raised, surpassing the campaign’s goal by $17 million.

“Our supporters have joined with us in taking UC Santa Cruz to the next level of achievement,” said Gordon Ringold (Crown ’72), chair of the Cornerstone Campaign Council. “The tremendous success of this campaign is thanks to the demonstrated commitment and support of our faculty and staff and the greater UC Santa Cruz community of alumni, parents, and friends.”

Running from July 2003 to June 2005, the Cornerstone Campaign benefited virtually every area of the campus. Gifts large and small contributed to this achievement, and more than $5.2 million was raised for undergraduate and graduate student support, a focused effort within the campaign.

Support from the UCSC Alumni Association’s newly created “First-in-Family” Scholarship helped Melissa Salas enter UCSC as a junior transfer psychology major. “I never questioned whether I was going to come to UCSC, it was just a matter of when,” said the Watsonville, California, native, who received support enabling her to transfer right after completing her A.A. degree.

Ocean sciences graduate student Petra Dekens (Crown ’98) is benefiting from a new Center for the Dynamics and Evolution of the Land-Sea Interface (CDELSI) Fellowship, generously created by an anonymous donor. “To have funding for my last year is really great,” said Dekens, “because I know I’ll be able to really focus on writing up the research I’ve done so far.”

Good news about your UCSC gift and taxes

See page 5 for details.

From Chancellor Denice D. Denton

ON BEHALF of the UC Santa Cruz community, it's my great pleasure to thank you for your support and advocacy, which has brought us phenomenal success in our Cornerstone Campaign and taken us to a second consecutive record-breaking year in private gift support. These achievements have been accomplished through your generosity, without which many key advancements would be impossible.

I also acknowledge and appreciate the leadership of previous administrations and the hard work of faculty and staff. As we work together toward the next level of distinction for our campus, I am pleased to share some of the priorities that will guide us.

► Expand educational opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students; emphasize the role of the colleges; establish professional schools.

► Build on the quality of existing academic disciplines to develop new programs, particularly those that are interdisciplinary.

► Bolster fundraising and organizational effectiveness by increasing productive partnerships among campus units and with companies, educational institutions, and governments in Silicon Valley, the Monterey Bay region, and beyond.

► Renew the campus's commitment to our local community, partnering with local governments on issues such as housing and transportation, while underscoring UCSC's contributions to education, volunteerism, culture, and economic growth and stability.

► Showcase the excellence of students, staff, faculty, and alumni who are driving progress across a spectrum of disciplines and making a difference in our world.

► Develop new strategies to attract, recruit, and retain exceptional students, staff, and faculty from diverse backgrounds.

Again I thank you for your ongoing commitment and support of UC Santa Cruz.

Sincerely yours,

Denice Denton

Kumar Malavalli and the first Malavalli Chair in Storage Systems, Darrell Long

Industry leader creates endowed chair

A $1 MILLION GIFT from Kumar Malavalli has established the Kumar Malavalli Endowed Chair in Storage Systems at UCSC's Baskin School of Engineering.

"All of the information that is generated in different areas of your life and in different businesses has to be stored, moved around, replicated, and backed up," said Malavalli, cofounder of two data storage and protection companies and inductee to the Silicon Valley Engineering Council Hall of Fame. "The technologies are growing by leaps and bounds, but we still don't have an optimal solution. More research is needed to fill the holes that exist today to provide the best solution for society."

Thanks to Malavalli's generosity, the Baskin School's Storage Systems Research Center (SSRC) will be able to focus greater resources on this crucial issue. UCSC has appointed Darrell Long, professor of computer science, as the first holder of the Malavalli Chair in Storage Systems. Long said the funds from the endowed chair will support research, graduate students, and other activities of the SSRC, a national leader in research on data storage and storage systems.

"I see this endowment as recognition for the excellence of the research conducted by the SSRC as a whole," said Long. "The center will benefit greatly from having this permanent source of support."

Donors with dual roles support library and students

UCSC's McHenry Library is undergoing a comprehensive expansion and renovation, creating a model 21st century facility that integrates the latest information technology with traditional resource excellence. Major gifts and valuable input from three supporters—who provide considerable volunteer service as well—are leading the way in this ambitious effort.

UCSC Foundation trustee Kit Mura-smith (Merrill '75) served on the advisory group that shaped plans for the library project. A retired technology industry executive, Mura-smith has also made a $1.4 million planned gift to support the library expansion and to fund scholarships through Services for Transfer and Re-Entry Students (STARS). "UCSC welcomed me and provided the support I needed to concentrate on my studies to complete my degree in one year," said Mura-smith, who enrolled as a senior transfer through the same program her scholarship will support.

Mike Graydon (Cowell '70), also a Foundation trustee, and his wife, Sally, a board member of the Friends of the UCSC Library (see related story page 5), have established the McHenry Library Expansion Learning & Outreach Center Fund, which will enrich a state-of-the-art instruction center. The fund will be vital in maintaining and updating the learning center, where students will develop lifelong skills in research and information literacy. "By supporting these programs, we're helping new generations move through new experiences and helping expose them to the brilliant people at UC Santa Cruz," said Graydon.

For more information on supporting the University Library, contact Margaret Gordon, director of development, (831) 459-4211 or mgordon@ucsc.edu.

Professor Emerita Jean Langenheim and ecology and evolutionary biology Ph.D. student Krikor Andonian, recipient of the first Jean H. Langenheim Graduate Fellowship in Plant Ecology and Evolution

Coastal research and graduate students benefit

FROM METICULOUS coastal surveys to controlled greenhouse experiments, researchers and students in the physical and biological sciences benefited this year from generous support. The Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation and the David and Lucile Packard Foundation contributed a total of more than $7 million to the Partnership for Interdisciplinary Studies of Coastal Oceans (PISCO), a long-term collaborative research project that received UC Santa Cruz's largest private contribution.

PISCO focuses on processes driving West Coast tidal ecosystems. Survey findings—so far covering nearly 100 sites, from Baja California to Alaska—reveal previously unrecognized geographic biodiversity patterns. "There have been a lot of intertidal surveys over the years in certain places, but what really sets us apart is the geographic range that we have been able to cover," said Alison Kendall (College Eight '01), one of five UCSC alumnae who make up the survey team. Moving quickly at low tides, the team documents the abundance and diversity of intertidal algae and invertebrates.

Focusing on terrestrial ecology issues, Krikor Andonian is researching how fungi affect exotic plant invasions and the regeneration of two California oak species. A Ph.D. student in ecology and evolutionary biology, Andonian received the first Jean H. Langenheim Graduate Fellowship in Plant Ecology and Evolution.

Langenheim, a professor emerita in ecology and evolutionary biology and an eminent plant ecologist, said the $200,000 gift had long been part of her estate plan. She created the fellowship now because state budget cuts and rising student fees make private graduate support all the more important.

"I simply decided to support the field in which I have been doing research for so long," Langenheim said. "It actually surprised me to look back and realize that it has been 60 years since I took my first courses in plant ecology."

UC SANTA CRUZ: Private Support Making a Difference

New Teacher Center mentor Sharon Galloway (left) working with fourth-grade teacher Hugo Diaz at the King Kamehameha III School in Lahaina, Hawaii

Individual and foundation gifts boost social sciences

A NATIONAL RESOURCE for teacher training, the UC Santa Cruz New Teacher Center (NTC) has developed a mentoring program that dramatically reduces new-teacher attrition. “Typically, nearly half of all new teachers leave the profession within five years, but we’re able to retain almost 90 percent,” said NTC director Ellen Moir. NTC’s success throughout school districts in more than 30 states has attracted major foundation support, including a three-year, $750,000 award from the Wachovia Foundation to fund a mentoring program in District of Columbia public schools. In addition, a $725,000 grant from the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation will support NTC’s work in three of East Palo Alto’s lowest-performing elementary and middle schools. The Goldman Sachs Foundation gave a $300,000 grant to bolster NTC’s organizational infrastructure and support the rapid growth of the center, which has developed a support program for principals as well as teachers. UCSC students are also benefiting from the generosity of Mark Headley (Stevenson ’83) whose firm, Matthews International Capital Management, has established the Transforming Asia Fund. The fund will support an Asian economies conference, a distinguished-visitor lecture program, and an undergraduate research award. All Transforming Asia Fund activities will take an interdisciplinary approach. In another example, Drew (College Eight ’83) and Myra Goodman are helping students in one of UCSC’s oldest interdisciplinary programs, environmental studies. They created the Earthbound Farm Environmental Stewardship Award, named for the farm they founded 20 years ago. The award supports students who are actively engaged in protecting and conserving the environment through organic, sustainable agriculture.

Humanities graduate program gains support

ONE OF UCSC’s earliest graduate programs has received a major gift from Craig Schiffer (Cowell ’78), who established the History of Consciousness Fellowship Endowment.

“Funding graduate students is especially challenging in interdis-

Longtime UCSC staffer Betsy Wootten in the Kresge College courtyard, holding the college tile presented to her by campus colleagues plinary departments such as ours,” said James Clifford, professor and chair of history of consciousness. “This gift is a crucial step in supporting our students.” The first History of Consciousness Fellowship was awarded to Kimberly Bird, whose dissertation studies California poets from the 1930s and 1940s who affiliated with a variety of democratic and anti-Fascist causes.

History of consciousness is an interdisciplinary Ph.D. program centered in the humanities with links to the social sciences, natural sciences, and arts. Schiffer’s gift provides essential student support, enabling focused dissertation research and writing.

For more information on supporting humanities programs and students, contact Nora Sweeny, director of development, (831) 459-4713 or nsweeny@ucsc.edu.

Colleges benefit from commemorative tile program

COLLEAGUES AND FRIENDS of Betsy Wootten surprised her with a college tile when she retired after 34 years as Kresge College faculty services coordinator. “I was thrilled,” said Wootten, “and pleased to receive such a wonderful and unexpected honor after so many years of work.” The purchase of Wootten’s tile benefits Kresge College, where she has spent most of her 40-year UC career. Wootten continues to live up to her 2001 UCSC Alumni Association Outstanding Staff Award. Opting for phased retirement, she now works part-time in the Feminist Studies Department. The College Tiles Program has raised more than $100,000, enabling provosts to support, initiate, and expand programs that enrich the UC Santa Cruz college experience. The tiles will be permanently displayed at the college of the donor’s choice, and are a unique way to commemorate graduations, retirements, family achievements, and other occasions.

For more information about supporting UC Santa Cruz colleges through the College Tiles Program, return the enclosed envelope or contact Jennifer Wood, director of development, Annual Fund and Colleges, (831) 459-2489 or jmwood@ucsc.edu.

Volunteers make the difference

VOLUNTEERS have been a vital part of the campus community since they first helped bring the University of California to Santa Cruz. The group of local community members who lobbied to establish UC Santa Cruz evolved into the UCSC Affiliates, the first of the campus support groups whose members provide a crucial foundation for many campus programs and activities (see sidebar).

For Joya Chatterjee, president of the Friends of the UCSC Library, volunteering is both a family affair and a family tradition. Her parents gave time and books to establish libraries for the poor in Calcutta, India, and her husband, Bijoy, serves on the Jack Baskin School of Engineering Regional Advisory Board and as an adviser to the Electrical Engineering Department. Their sons also volunteer generously for their favorite projects. “We’ve taught our children that they must spend some of their time to make a difference in someone’s life, or to an organization. This will make everyone ‘feel better,’” said Chatterjee.

From funding scholarships to setting up endowments, from acting as docents to staffing events, community volunteers generously give their energy, ideas, and donations in support of a wide range of campus programs. Most volunteers belong to one of several campus “friends” or support groups, which have a combined membership of nearly 4,600. “The varied expertise and knowledge of volunteers brings a rich culture to UCSC,” said Joya Chatterjee. “Volunteering is self-fulfilling. When you give, you see the growth. You see the difference that you make. And it’s exhilarating, to say the least!”

Good news about your gift and 2005 federal taxes

THANKS TO the Katrina Emergency Tax Relief Act of 2005, Congress will assist donors and their favorite charities—including tax-exempt organizations like UC Santa Cruz—by providing federal tax breaks. To qualify for both tax breaks, your gift must be given: (1) as cash, check, electronic transfer of cash, or securities; (2) between August 28, 2005, and before January 1, 2006; and (3) to any public charity, not just those providing hurricane relief (gifts to donor-advised funds or private foundations do not qualify).

Normally, taxpayers lose a percentage of their itemized deductions when their adjusted gross income (AGI) reaches $145,950 (if you’re married but filing separately, this threshold starts at $72,975). For this tax year only, the bill waives the phaseout on contributions if they meet the three rules noted above, and you can deduct 100 percent of your itemized gifts to qualified charitable organizations.

In addition, the Katrina Emergency Tax Relief Act raises the maximum deduction for charitable contributions made from Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs). Generally, the amount withdrawn from an IRA is subject to income tax.* In 2005 only, Congress has raised the AGI threshold to 100 percent, which gives anyone an opportunity to donate their IRA, in whole or in part, to charity, while incurring little or no tax liability. Please see your tax consultant for more information.

* The 10 percent penalty for IRA withdrawals before age 59.5 is not waived for charitable contributions.

Donor profile: David Kaun

THE STORY of David Kaun’s life is written in his philanthropy: a passion for music; a commitment to education, teaching, and students; and the sheer joy of giving back. “It’s wonderful fun,” he said about his experiences as a donor. “I’ve helped some students, which is really a great pleasure. I’ve seen the value in all the support I’ve given.” A devoted and generous donor to UC Santa Cruz since joining the faculty in 1966, Kaun said, “I’m an economist by profession, but a clarinetist by temperament.” Kaun’s major UCSC gifts include two music scholarships; a University Library music endowment; composer sponsorships for Shakespeare Santa Cruz; and underwriting the Arts & Lectures classical music program.

When Kaun attended the first season of the UCSC Pacific Rim Music Festival, he was so impressed he became a festival supporter. UCSC associate professor of music and festival artistic director Hi Kyung Kim surprised Kaun by inviting him to perform a piece composed in his honor at the next festival. “It was phenomenal,” said Kaun, describing the debut of “Duo 5-5-05,” which he performed with composer and clarinetist John Sackett, a lecturer in music at UCSC. Himself a recipient of student support, Kaun endowed a graduate student award in social sciences after working with outstanding teaching assistants. “I do believe that the only intelligent thing to do with your money is to spend it in the ways you want, and to do some good in the process,” he said. For David Kaun, that includes his generous support of the arts, education, and students at UC Santa Cruz.

For more information on supporting arts programs and students, contact Ann McCrow, director of development, (831) 459-2439 or aemccrow@ucsc.edu. You can read David Kaun’s complete profile at giveto.ucsc.edu/stories_of_support/profile-kaun.asp.

From the President of the Board

I AM HONORED and pleased to serve as president of the UC Santa Cruz Foundation Board, and I thank my predecessor, Ken Feingold, and all Foundation trustees for the collegiality that makes this job such a pleasure. With their support and enthusiasm and the leadership of Acting Chancellor Martin M. Chemers and Chancellor Denise D. Denton, we raised a record $37.5 million in private gift support in fiscal year 2005. This is an impressive precedent and an energizing challenge as we continue working together to support UCSC students, programs, and faculty.

I grew up in India, moved to the U.S. as a graduate student, and have made California my home for 30 years. My recent association with UCSC has the feel of an arranged marriage, arranged oddly enough by my late husband, Sidhartha Maitra, and Chancellor M.R.C. Greenwood. After the first flush of excitement, I found myself asking: Why Santa Cruz? Why the Foundation? I come from a country of heart-breaking poverty. How could I justify using my spare resources—energies, time, money—in support of what seem, in comparison, trivial causes?

I only had to simultaneously widen and extend my vision to recognize the answer that I knew in my heart to be true. Here at UCSC, there are faculty and students doing research that will help solve the challenges that all humanity faces. I feel privileged to be in a team supporting this work and creating generations of socially responsible leaders.

I invite you to join with me and my Foundation colleagues and support the work of UCSC through your advocacy, time, energy, and donations. There are an amazing array of activities here, and I encourage you to find one that speaks to you. It might be related to human challenges including energy, poverty, or the environment, or it may be in music, art, history, or drama. After all, what is the point of saving the world if there is no music when we are done?

As we proceed, I take a cue from a recent article I read on successful leadership. Two essential qualities are chutzpah and grace, with chutzpah being most effective when used for a larger cause.

We intend to lead with chutzpah and grace.

This report honors the many UC Santa Cruz contributors who have invested in the achievements and future of this outstanding university. Many direct their gifts to one or more programs of special interest to them, such as a college, academic department, scholarship fund, or specific area of research.

THE WAYS OF GIVING are as diverse as the opportunities to join the campus in its mission of education, research, and service. The UC Santa Cruz Foundation welcomes outright gifts of cash, securities, and property. Gifts may also be pledged, with payment extended over time. There are also deferred giving options, including charitable remainder trusts, life insurance gifts, and bequests. Unrestricted gifts allow the campus to direct resources where they are needed most. Other vehicles for giving include annual giving, endowment gifts, special campaigns, and honorary and memorial giving.

The UC Santa Cruz Foundation welcomes all expressions of support. The Foundation has tax-exempt status granted under Section 501(c)(3) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, and all contributions to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.

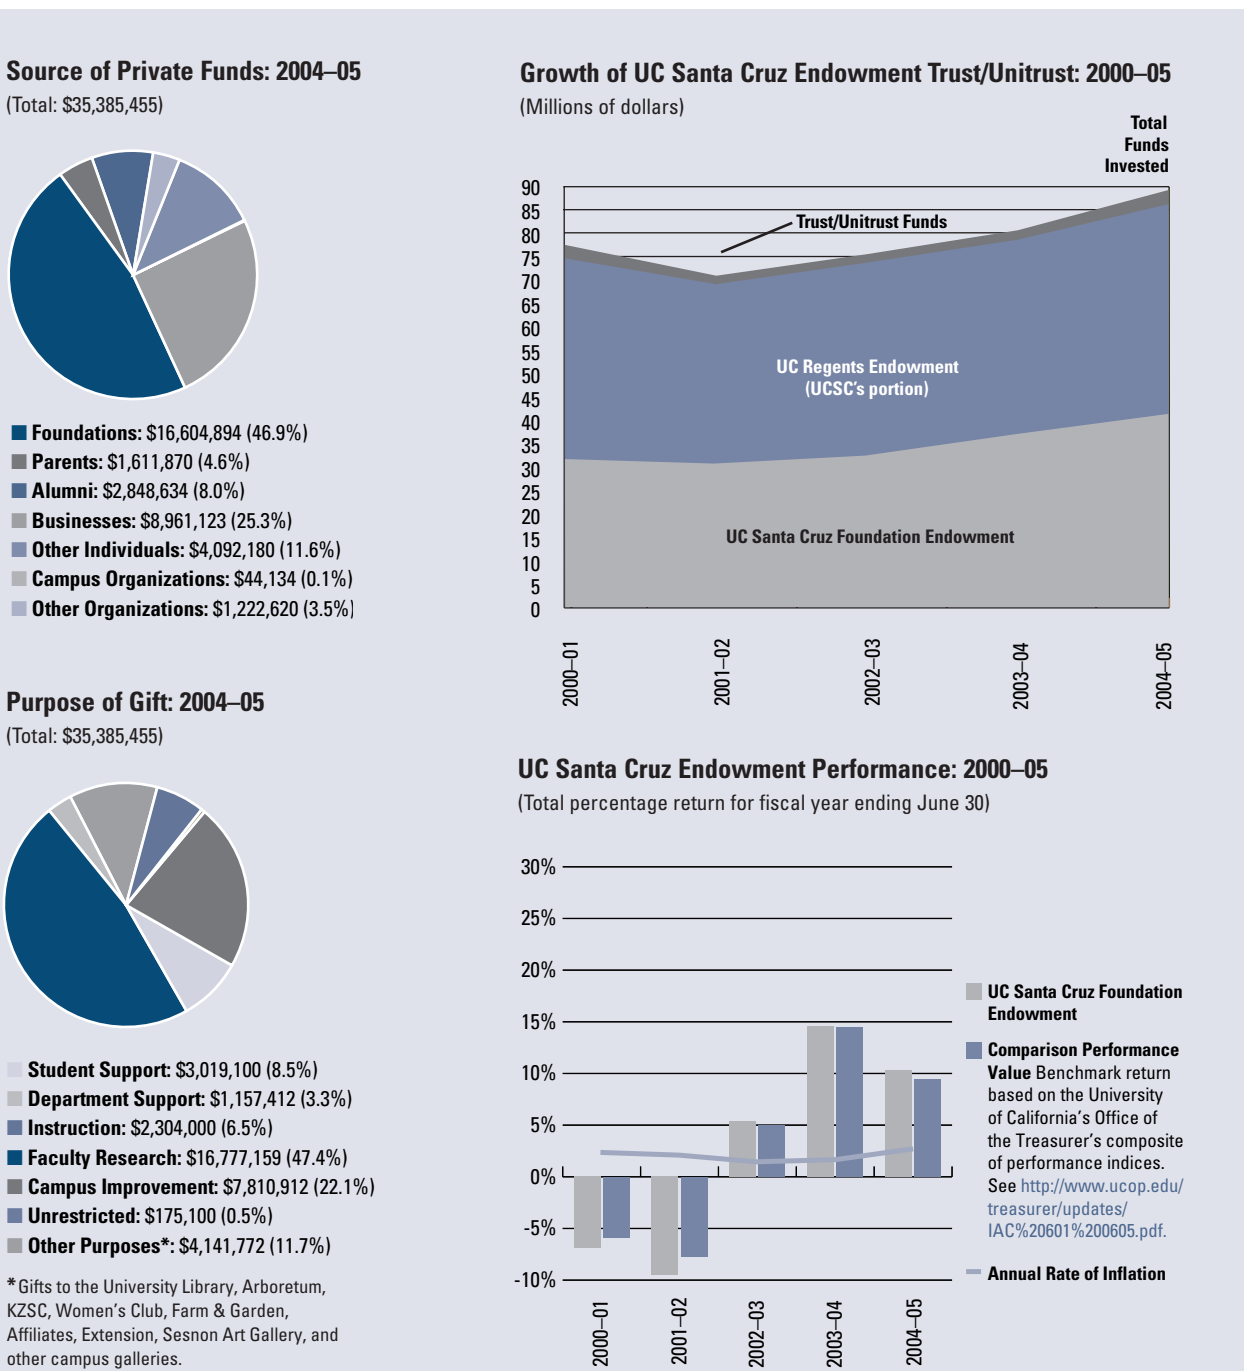

Financial data in this report were compiled prior to the final 2004–05 fiscal-year audit. Copies of the Foundation’s audited financial statement are available upon request.

We deeply appreciate the many individuals and organizations that support UC Santa Cruz, and are pleased to acknowledge their generous contributions.

University Benefactors (pages 7–8) are individuals, foundations, businesses, and other organizations that have made cumulative contributions of $50,000 or more over the history of the campus. Through the 21st Century Club (page 8), we acknowledge those who have made deferred gifts to UCSC or informed the university that they are remembering the campus in their wills.

Contributors have made gifts or pledges totaling $100 or more to UC Santa Cruz between July 1, 2004, and June 30, 2005. Individual Contributors (pages 9–13) and Parent Contributors (parents of current students, pages 13–16), are recognized by giving club. Alumni Contributors (those who attended UCSC for three or more quarters, pages 16–23) are listed by class year and giving club. We list alumni contributors with spouses or partners, UCSC alumnus/a listed first. If both are alumni, their listing is followed by an *. Contributing Businesses, Foundations, Campus Organizations, and Other Organizations (pages 23–24) are listed following contributing alumni.

Trusts (page 24) recognizes gifts received in affiliation with a trust. We also list Honorary Gifts (page 15) and Memorial Gifts (page 20) made during the 2004–05 year. UC Santa Cruz Foundation Trustees are indicated by †, and former trustees by ‡.

Chicken—or Egg?

For the Perlinos, the chicken came first. After years of raising chickens, the Perlinos, through a bequest, left a sizable nest egg benefiting students at UC Santa Cruz. At the same time, they bypassed capital gains and estate taxes.
